

Farmers could lose millions, face crisis over foot and mouth

Contributed by The Editor
Monday, 06 August 2007

LONDON (AFP) - British farmers could face huge financial losses and even be forced to quit agriculture if the latest foot and mouth outbreak is not resolved within days, industry leaders warned Monday.

LONDON (AFP) - British farmers could face huge financial losses and even be forced to quit agriculture if the latest foot and mouth outbreak is not resolved within days, industry leaders warned Monday.

Read more here...